HOTELS

Thompson Toronto Hotel is continuing its evolution as one of the premiere entertainment, accommodation and events destination at the heart of trendy King West Village with the renovation of its Lobby Bar, updating its meeting spaces and creating new guestrooms, at a total cost of over $1.5 million. The re-imagined Lobby Bar, which debuted February 2016, reflects Thompson’s refined edge, with contemporary décor and a lively atmosphere targeting creative professionals and visitors alike. Programming includes ongoing events and after-work promotions, with the bar highlighting Canadian Whisky and serving classic cocktails with a modern flare, while a seasonal dining menu will deliver simple-yet-elegant tapas and shareable plates with modern accents. New to the Lobby Bar is a high-tech, private event space, featuring an enormous 60 square foot multi-functional HD media wall. This convertible space, which can be completely private or open to the main bar, can accommodate over 100 people.

To update the Thompson Toronto Hotel’s meeting spaces, the third floor Portland Meeting Room, which opens onto the hotel’s expansive third floor terrace, is being updated with décor, furnishing and technology to accommodate meetings of up to 40 attendees. Also on the third floor are three newly constructed guest rooms complete with Thompson’s trademark ultra-modern design and furnishings, as well as private terraces.

ATTRACTIONS

What better way to welcome spring than to come and meet the Toronto Zoo’s giant panda cubs, white lion cubs and polar bear cub. Canada’s first two giant panda cubs were born on October 13, 2015 and both are now exploring their new habitat within the Zoo’s Giant Panda Experience with mom Er Shun. Visit the panda cubs on display to the public on March 12, 2016. And of course don’t forget about the Zoo’s four male white lion cubs which can be viewed in the African Lion Habitat in the African Savanna, and the female polar cub which can be viewed in the Polar Bear Maternity Den in the Tundra Trek. torontozoo.com/

Yoga at Ripley’s Aquarium has returned. Transport yourself to the tropical islands as you mountain pose in front of Rainbow Reef. Watch the graceful stingrays glide through the water in Ray Bay as you perfect your warrior pose. Join the Aquarium for their yoga sessions alternating between their Rainbow Reef and Ray Bay exhibits running from March to August. ripleyaquariums.com/canada/

American and Canadian artists of the 1960s and ’70s changed the feel and appearance of abstract painting, and you can appreciate this at the Art Gallery of Ontario’s A New Look: 1960s and ’70s Abstract Painting exhibit until March 26, 2016. They soaked pigment directly into the canvas, which enabled them to move beyond the thickly painted and dramatically brushed work of the previous generation. ago.net/

Drawings are among the most personal, immediate and experimental works of art and you can experience this at the Drawing, Je t’aime: Selections from the AGO Vaults exhibit. This special exhibition, on until March 26, 2016, gathers together drawings from across time and place from all the AGO’s collecting areas. Drawing, Je t’aime has been curated by members of the newly formed Print & Drawing Council (comprised of staff in the curatorial, conservation and programming departments). Working collaboratively, they have made some surprising finds in the boxes in the Print & Drawing vaults. Their discoveries include over 100 rarely seen drawings by Jacopo Tintoretto, Edgar Degas, Henri Matisse, Robert Motherwell, Joyce Wieland and Annie Pootoogook; extraordinary sketchbooks by William Cruikshank, given to the AGO by the artist in 1909; and a series of vivid impressions of the Apollo 13 space voyage sketched by K.M. Graham in 1970. ago.net/

Song Dong’s Communal Courtyard, on at the Art Gallery of Ontario from January 30–July 17, 2016, invites visitors to lose themselves inside a unique installation of 100 vintage Chinese wardrobe doors which transforms the exhibition space into a series of snaking walkways and small rooms reminiscent of Beijing’s traditional communal living spaces. Evocative of the contemporary urban experience from Beijing to Toronto, in which traditional architectures and ways of living together are being threatened by rapid growth, this thoughtful, playful installation invites audiences to reconsider how we might hold onto some elements of tradition while radically reimagining them for the present. ago.net

The Art Gallery of Ontario presents the Hurvin Anderson: Backdrop exhibit from May 19 - August 21, 2016. Best known for his paintings of lush Caribbean landscapes and urban barbershops, British artist Hurvin Anderson portrays charged social histories and shifting notions of cultural identity with poignancy and great beauty. The child of Jamaican parents who settled in Birmingham, Anderson creates large-scale landscapes and interiors that are brightly hued meditations on place, memory and inclusion. ago.net

The Art Gallery of Ontario is partnering with the Hammer Museum to introduce Lawren Harris’s iconic landscapes. The Idea of North: The Paintings of Lawren Harris will be the first major solo exhibition of his work to be shown in the United States, and will arrive in Toronto in July 1 - September 11, 2016. The core of the exhibition features more than 30 of Harris’ most significant and rare northern landscapes from the 1920s and 1930s, drawn from major public and private collections across Canada. ago.net/

Enter the visually stunning world of the The Kirwin Collection: Legacy of an Exploration Geologist at the Royal Ontario Museum (ROM). With over 21,000 specimens, this truly is a rock collection of epic proportions. Amassed over the past 40 years by exploratory geologist Douglas Kirwin, the collection is made up of minerals and ores from around the world, with a special focus on the Asia-Pacific region. This extraordinary addition to the museum’s Earth Sciences collection makes the ROM home to a distinguished and important geological collection. rom.on.ca

The ROM is taking over an entire gallery to showcase a collection of Mexican textiles with the ¡Viva México! Clothing and Culture exhibit. It’s one of the largest and most important in the world, yet few textiles from this remarkable collection have ever been displayed. Vibrant expressions of creativity, the pieces in this exhibition combine remarkable technical skill with exquisite artistry. Over 150 stunning historic and contemporary pieces are on display, including complete costume ensembles, sarapes, rebozos, textiles, embroidery, beadwork and more. rom.on.ca
Try to Escaped from the Tower at Casa Loma. This is the first installation of the Casa Loma Escape Series, a fictional experience based on historical facts. You have 60 minutes to complete your missions. In 1941, Casa Loma was used as an undercover research centre for anti–submarine detection technology. William Corman was commissioned to continue the anti–submarine detection research after the original centre was bombed in the London Blitz. The newest game, King of the Bootleggers, will take players through this tunnel to experience the 1920s and the mysterious disappearance of a key criminal suspect. casaloma.ca

McMichael Canadian Art Collection turns 50 in 2016. To celebrate, McMichael will feature a special exhibition, A Foundation for Fifty Years: McMichael Masterwork until May 1, 2016. The McMichael owes its existence and collection to the generosity of donors. A Foundation for Fifty Years will present some of the most significant donations made for the McMichael gallery's founding year, 1966, by Signe and Robert McMichael, as well as their peers, who were all excited to make Canadian masterworks a gift to the public of Ontario. Installed in the McMichael's principle gallery on the ground floor, this collection of masterworks celebrates their core artists - the Group of Seven and their contemporaries. Artists on show include Tom Thomson, Lawren Harris, David Milne, and Emily Carr, to name a few. The exhibition space has been restored to its 1960s modernist style, in a manner that the McMichaels intended: traditional materials with modern lines. mcmichael.com/
